The Daily Courant

Saturday, May 13. 1721.

London, May 13.

THE following Address from the City of Norwich has been presented to His Majesty by Waller Bacon and Robert Brittiffe, Esqs. the Representatives in Parliament of that City, introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Townshend, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty of the City of Norwich in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Soveraign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and faithful Subjects, humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon the Encrease of your Royal Family, by the Birth of the young Prince, and to declare our Joy for this new Pledge of Happiness to Great Britain. We are glad of this Opportunity to acknowledge your Majesty's great Goodness, in the tender Concern you have shewn for the Calamity brought upon your People by the vile Practices of the Directors of the South Sea Company: And as we are fully satisfied, that not any the least Part of this Misfortune can be imputed to your Majesty; so we are not less assured of your Readiness to concur in all proper Methods for the rescuing your Subjects from their Distress upon that Occasion.

We of this Place are particularly obliged to your Majesty, for passing an Act in Favour of our Trade, and we expect from your powerful Measures soon to see a Peace settled with Spain, to the great Advantage of the Trade of the Nation in general. We have a thorough Sense of the unspeakable Happiness your Kingdoms enjoy under your wise and gentle Government; and we hope you shall always find from your People that Fidelity and Affection you truly merit from them. That your Majesty may very long sit upon the Throne for the Protection of the Protestant Interest, and the publick Liberty, and with the utmost Glory to your self, is the ardent Prayer of your most obedient and faithful Subjects.

Given under our common Seal, the Third of May, 1721.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

Vienna, May 7. The last Letters from Poland make no Mention of an Irruption of the Turks into Podolia, nor of their having invested Caminieck; they rather intimate, that the Turks, in Conjunction with Prince Ragotzki and his Adherents, design to enter Hungary through Poland, and afterwards to march towards the Danube, to cut off the Communication between Germany and Peterwaradin, Belgrade, and Temiswaer. Upon this, the Emperour is said to have desired the King of Poland to have a careful Eye on the Frontiers of that Kingdom, and to assure him of powerful Assistance in case of Need. Letters from Rome say, the Imperial Ambassadour Count Kinski was hourly expected there: That Abundance of Pasquils were published daily; and that a Medal is shewn, having on one Side the City of Rome, with this Latin Verse, Omnia venduntur Romæ, imò Dogmata Christi.

All Things are sold in Rome, even the Gospel of Christ.

And on the other Side is seen the Conclave, with the Holy Ghost represented under it in the Shape of a Dove, with this Inscription,

Et ne me vendant, evolo; Roma vale.

And lest they sell me, I fly away; Rome - - Farewell.

Hambourg, May 13. 'Letters from Stockholm 'of the 30th of the last Month say, the Number 'of Troops encrease considerably thereabouts, 'as though all the Forces in the Kingdom were intended to be assembled in Old Sweden; but four 'disciplined Regiments, and the like Number of 'Militia, are to continue in Scania, and other distant Provinces from Stockholm. In order to prevent a Scarcity of Provisions, the Magazines are 'ordered to be filled immediately, and a Squadron 'of ten Ships are to sail to the Coasts of Prussia, to 'convoy from thence to Sweden the Merchant 'Ships laden with Corn at Dantzick, Konigsberg, 'and other Places. The Frigates that have been 'sent out to get Intelligence at Sea are returned 'without making any Discovery; and half of the 'new Gallies and armed Vessels are to go to Aland; 'the rest are to wait the Arrival of the British 'Fleet. The Swedish Fleet will consist this Year 'of 23 large Ships of War, under the Command 'of the Admiral Count Sparr; but the Gallies are 'continually to cruize in the Scheres, and some 'light armed Frigates are to be added to them. 'Seven Thousand Men are to serve on board the 'Grand Fleet. Advices from Sweden of the 4th 'Instant give an Account, that since the Return of 'M. de Campredon from Petersbourg, without having met with the desired Success, the Partisans 'of the Duke of Holstein, in concert with some 'of the disaffected, do all they can to heighthen 'Jealousies on every Side.

Copenhagen, May 13. The King and the Prince Royal are returned to this Place from Fredericksbourg. On the 11th Instant in the Morning the British Fleet sailed from this Road in order to join the Fleet of Sweden near the Isle of Bornholm, from whence 'tis said they are to proceed towards the Coast of Finland.

Brussels, May 15. An Alteration being soon to be made in the Magistracy of Ghent and Bruges, abundance of Persons are come hither to solicite their Promotion. The new Canal between Malines and Diest is finished, and will serve henceforwards for the Transportation of Merchandize from this Country to Leige. The Three Ships which arrived lately at Ostend from India, have brought great Quantities of rich Effects.

Hague, May 18. The Assembly of the States is adjourn'd to the 20th Instant. The Corps of M. Corneille de Jonge, Lord of Elmet, formerly Receiver-General of the United Provinces, and afterwards Pensionary Councellour of Rotterdam, is to be conveyed To morrow to Schiplemuyde, in order to be there interr'd. Admiral Somersdyke is sailed with four Ships of War and some Merchant Ships under his Convoy from the Texel: The rest of the Ships of War that are to compose the Streights Squadron, are to follow as soon as possible.

Bristol, May 10. Yesterday and this Day arrived here the Philadelphia from Virginia; and the Brother and Sister from the Streights.

Exon, May 10. This Day arrived here the Penelope in 13 Days from Lisbon, Captain Stevens Commander, who reports, that the James of this Place was arrived at Oporto.

Deal, May 11. Yesterday sailed the Lady Mary for Cadiz; and this Morning the James for Barbadoes. Came in the Charles for Virginia. Arrived the Mermaid from Leghorn, and Ratcliffe from Lisbon.
